What is Forex Bank Pro.?

Forex Bank Pro LLC is a modern financial services company specializing in forex trading solutions, investment strategies, and automated trading technologies. Forex Bank Pro LLC emphasizes trust, integrity, and client satisfaction. Its mission is to empower individuals and institutions with the knowledge, tools, and opportunities required to succeed in the global financial markets. The company offers a range of services including forex trading systems, expert advisors (EAs), market insights, and portfolio management solutions. By combining innovation with experience, Forex Bank Pro LLC continues to position itself as a forward-thinking leader in the forex industry.

The Mutual Accounts service allows investors to earn on Forex without trading on their own and EA to get additional income through efficient management of investor's funds.

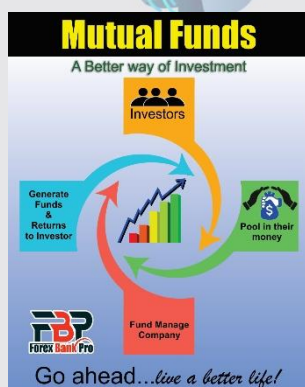

Mutual stands for a percent allocation management module. It is a software application generally used for pairing client funds with a special discretionary account service provided by foreign exchange brokers. The EA trading activity results - including profits, losses and trades - are compounded among central asset accounts accordingly to the ratio of investment on an account. As the currency dealing and other types of arbitrage operations attain profit-making capacity within very straitened margins, this type of management enables more currency to be engaged in trading while the risk is distributed usually between investors.
